

BELIEVE KAISER CANCER VICTIM

Many Germans Fear He Is Suffering from Same Disease That Killed His Father, Emperor Frederick.

PROF. ORTH SILENCED
BY ORDER OF WILHELM.

Fact that Expert Is Not Permitted to Lecture on Case Adds to Apprehension of the People.

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—The belief that Emperor William is a victim of cancer is gaining in official circles here. The refusal of the Emperor's advisers to allow Prof. Orth to lecture before the Berlin Medical Society on the operation performed on the Emperor's throat has caused the greatest surprise and is taken as significant proof of the fact that the Emperor's case is much more serious than the public has been led to believe.

The bulletins issued by the attending physicians are given little credence here. The fact that no official bulletin in which absolute denial of cancer is made has been issued is looked upon in diplomatic circles as significant of the Emperor's real condition. Prof. Orth had intended to explain the operation and the pathological aspects of the case before the Medical Society. His explanation would have done much to relieve the present feeling that the polypus removed been of a purely benign character, as has been maintained by the physicians attending the Emperor.

See Meaning in Silence. That he was not allowed to make the explanation is deemed proof of the fact that the growth removed from His Majesty's vocal cords was of a far more serious nature than was at first announced.

Prof. Orth was not present at the operation performed on the Emperor, and it is barely possible that he may have been deceived in the same manner as Prof. Virchow was by Sir Morell Mackenzie in the case of the late Emperor Frederick.

Under the house law of the Hohenzollerns an incurable disease is a bar to succession to the throne. At the time of the first operation on his throat Frederick was Crown Prince. His wife was the daughter of Queen Victoria. It was Queen Victoria who sent her own physician, Sir Morell Mackenzie, to Germany to combat the German physicians and prove Frederick's case to be non-malignant.

According to well-verified reports, Sir Morell Mackenzie deliberately deceived Prof. Virchow, to whom the polypus removed from Frederick's throat was sent for microscopic examination. Through this deception Frederick was enabled to ascend the throne and Queen Victoria's daughter became Empress of Germany.

May Be Deceived. It may be that Dr. Schmidt, who performed the operation on Emperor William, is deceiving Prof. Orth and his colleagues. Cancer is the hereditary taint of the Hohenzollerns. To be sure, the present case differs from Frederick's, inasmuch as William is already on the throne, but it is said that the death of William from the same disease that carried off his father might have a bearing on the succession of the present Crown Prince.

The following bulletin on the condition of Emperor William was issued today: "The healing of His Majesty's wound is proceeding in so entirely satisfactory a manner that the next healing will be issued the day after tomorrow." This was signed by Drs. Von Leutbold, Schmidt and Liberg. The report that the Villa Ciro, at San Remo, formerly occupied by the late Emperor Frederick, had been bought for Emperor William is absolutely denied at the Foreign Office here.

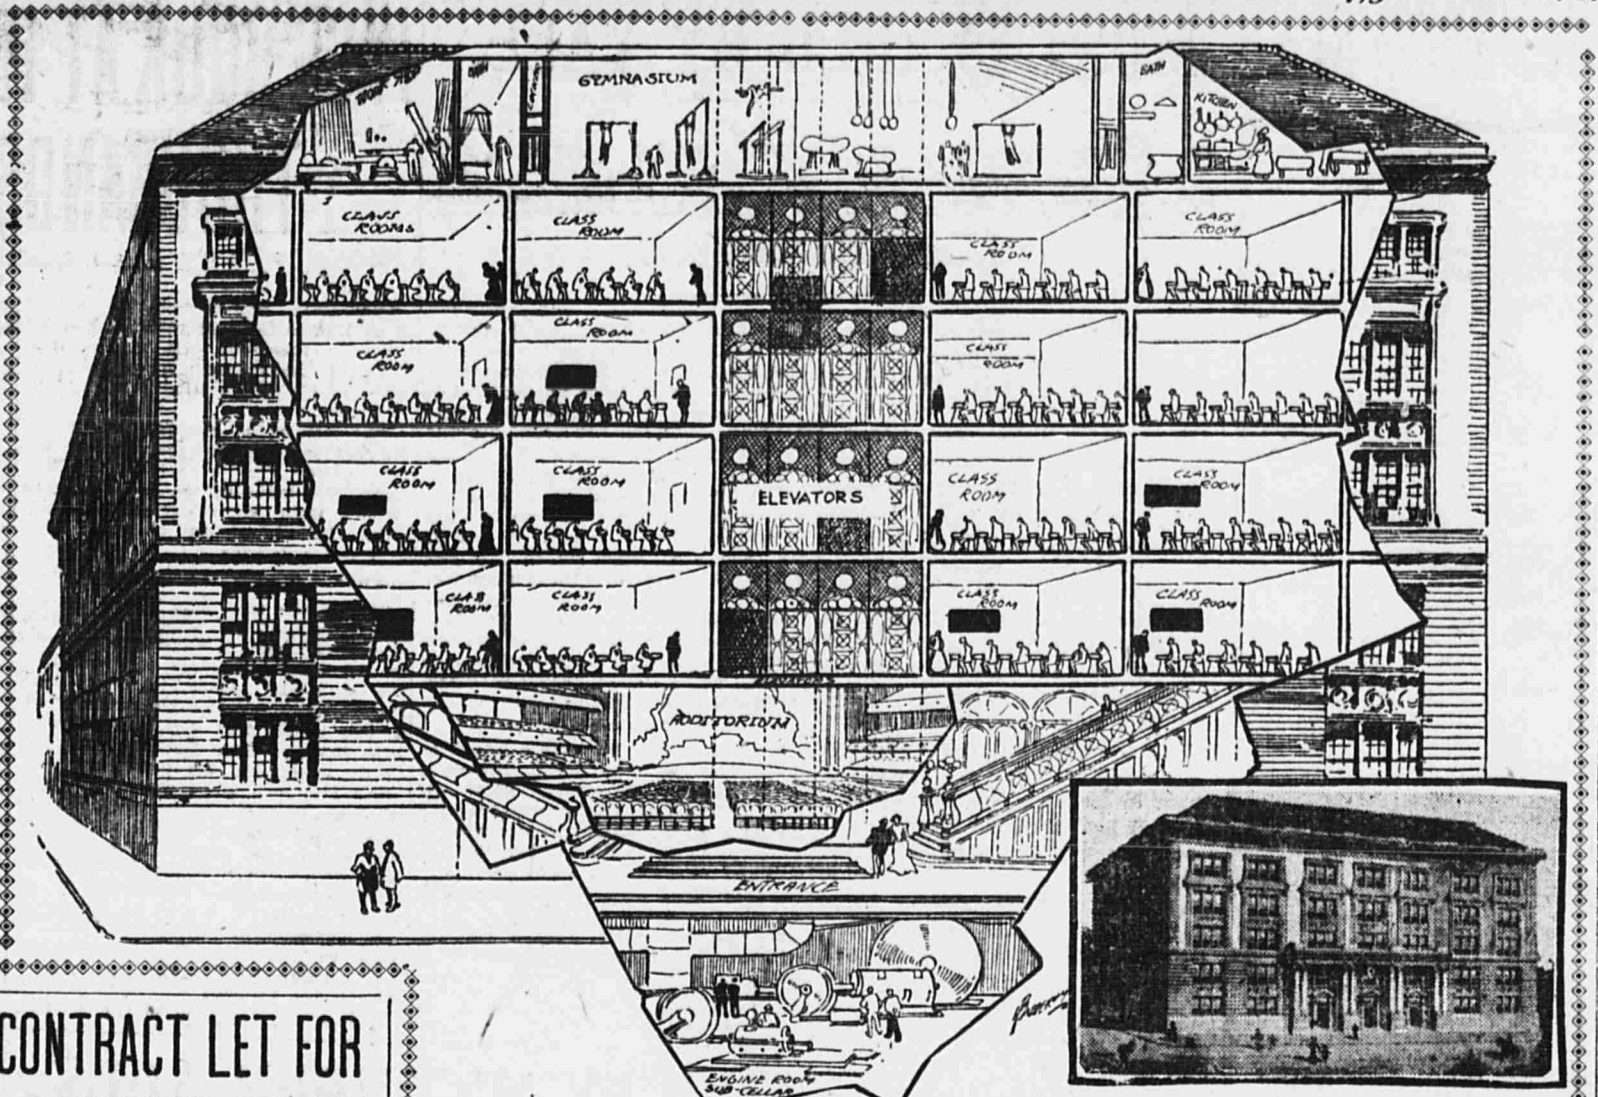

POLICE ON GUARD AT HERMIT'S HOME

Refuse to Permit Any Person to Enter Late Residence of Mrs. Mary Oliver, Who Was Found Dead.

The police were still guarding today Mrs. Mary Oliver, the "Harlem Hermit," who was found dead on Monday. Acting under instructions from Capt. McNally, of the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street station, they refused to let any person enter the house without an order from the Surgeon's office. The home of James P. Alderice, the agent of Mrs. Oliver, who died on Tuesday at No. 221 Second avenue, was deserted today. The son, James Alderice, a lawyer, left the house with his sister Mary, who, the police say, is in a very nervous condition and had to be taken to the hospital. Miller Campbell, a grandson of Mrs. Alderice, who represents the heirs, asked Capt. McNally today if he could enter the Alderice home, as he desired to be believed to be in the place. Capt. McNally told him that no one would be allowed to enter the house without permission of Mr. Alderice, unless a search warrant was first obtained.

RECEPTION FOR DAUGHTER. Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Pardo will give a reception at their home, No. 263 Williams street, tomorrow, in honor of the engagement of their daughter, Janice, to Lawyer Henry C. Price.

SECTIONAL VIEW OF GREAT NEW SCHOOL-HOUSE, MODEL OF MODERN IDEAS, WHICH WILL ACCOMMODATE NEARLY 4,500 PUPILS.

CONTRACT LET FOR BIGGEST SCHOOL

New Structure to Be a Marvel of Size and Comfort, Embodying All the Most Modern Ideas in Construction.

The contract for the erection of the biggest public school building has just been let by the Board of Education. It will be known as No. 42 and will have a frontage of 75 feet on Norfolk street 200 feet on Hester and 300 feet on Essex street, in the very center of the crowded east side. The building with ground will cost $1,088,000. It is to be of French Renaissance architecture and will be six stories high, with a basement and sub-basement, and will be equipped with elevators. The basement proper will contain the main floor of the auditorium, 36,000 feet, which will seat 1,600 people, the main entrance to which will be from the park front. The balance of the space will be given over to heating apparatus, coal storage and other purposes. The main entrances from the street to the first floor open directly on the stairways leading to the auditorium, the gallery of which is on the first floor level.

The school building will accommodate nearly 4,500 pupils. It has been deemed wise to divide it into practically two schools, one for girls of all grades, with entrances from Norfolk and Hester streets, and one for boys of all grades, with entrances from Essex street. These entrances to the first floor connect directly with the stairways leading to the upper floors and the four elevators, two for boys and two for girls.

The second, third, fourth and fifth stories have been given over to twenty classrooms each. The sixth floor has been divided into twenty classroom units, which have been subdivided into one gymnasium, one cook-room, one workshop, two baths, two locker-rooms and seven classrooms. The exterior of the building is to be of buff and blue Indiana limestone, granite and terra cotta, gray slate roof with copper flashings, ridge rolls, &c. The interior will be finished in oak throughout. The contract price of $1,088,000 is considered very reasonable, being at the rate of 19-1/2c. per cubic foot, or a saving of 3-1/2c. per cubic foot over the last large contract let.

VENEZUELAN CASE WITH THE JUDGES

Arguments Closed with Statement that United States Would Remain Faithful to Arbitration.

THE HAGUE, Nov. 12.—The Venezuelan Arbitration Tribunal adjourned today sine die, the arguments having been concluded. The Court will now consider its decision and will notify those interested of the date of its delivery. The closing proceedings were brief. Replying for the United States, Judge Fenfield, solicitor of the State Department at Washington, maintained that the blockading Powers in the protocol of Feb. 12 abandoned all claims for privileged treatment. The United States, he declared, would remain faithful to the cause of arbitration, even though the decision rendered is unfavorable to America. Counsel was confident the Tribunal's verdict would prove satisfactory to the conscience of the civilized world. The Tribunal announced that complete statements of claims might be deposited with the Secretary-General up to Dec. 15, inclusive. Solicitor-General Fenfield thanked the Court in behalf of all his colleagues and the President, Mr. Muraviev, expressed his thanks to counsel for their assistance. He said they could depend on the Court's best efforts to find a verdict in accordance with the law of equity. United States Minister Bowen went to London tomorrow, and Judge Fenfield will sail for the United States Nov. 14.

ASPHYXIATED AS SHE SAID A PRAYER

Loose Feathers from a Pillow Got Into Mrs. McGee's Nose and Throat While She Was Kneeling at the Bed.

Mrs. Mary McGee knelt at the side of her bed in No. 59 Butler street, Rosebank, S. I., to say her prayers last night, and when her husband, Terrence McGee, a private in the Ordnance Corps, stationed at Sandy Hook, came home today he found her asphyxiated by feathers. McGee and the neighbors said that his wife, who was forty years old, had been drinking excessively the last few days. She overturned a lighted lamp yesterday morning and burned the end of a huge pillow. A neighbor heard her screams and extinguished the fire. When he left the house the loose feathers were strewn over the bed. From her position when found it was evident that Mrs. McGee had knelt at the side of the bed to say her prayers and had fallen asleep. Her head sinking among the loose feathers. As she breathed she inhaled the feathers and they asphyxiated her.

The doctors who were called said there could be no doubt as to the cause of death, but that they never before heard of a similar cause of death. Small feathers were found in the woman's mouth and nose and on down her throat, completely closing the bronchial tubes. It was evident to the doctors that even the small feathers had penetrated to the lungs.

AMERICAN FLAG PLANS WINNERS

Eleven architects gathered in the office of Commissioner of Public Works Redfield today to find out which one had been successful in the competition for providing plans for a new municipal building in Brooklyn that will cost $1,000,000.

The winner was Washington Hull, who had his plans marked with an American flag as a means of identification. Mr. Hull lives at No. 134 South Portland avenue, Brooklyn, and has an office at No. 16 East Twenty-third street.

He was at one time connected with the firm of Lord & Hewlett, who also were competitors, used to be superintendent for McKim, Meade & White, and furnished the plans for Senator Clark's Fifth avenue mansion.

The new building in Brooklyn will cost $1,000,000, and the successful architect will receive a commission of 5 per cent. on this sum as compensation. The ten defeated competitors will each receive $500 for work on the plans they turned in.
